MAPS IN POLAND

- In the 19th c. Germans migrated through Poland
- Jerry Frank's maps are based on several sources about these migrations
- SGGEE members can access details for each map section: https://www.sggee.org/SGGEE2009/members/web_map_index_Poland.html
- These maps show the villages most likely to have German residents & the major towns with Lutheran or Catholic churches

REVIEW & PRACTICE BY FINDING KNOWN FAMILY RECORDS

- SGGEE databases include verified record sources
- Search the Master Pedigree Database (MPD) for ancestors who show specific dates for records of birth, marriage or death
- Request a Family Group Sheet (FGS) from Databases for source information, e.g. film number or parish details
- Parish Record Index database (PRI) provides b/m/d year & record number with parish listed as well as LDS film #
- Search for the record yourself using the date and parish information & become familiar with how to find records

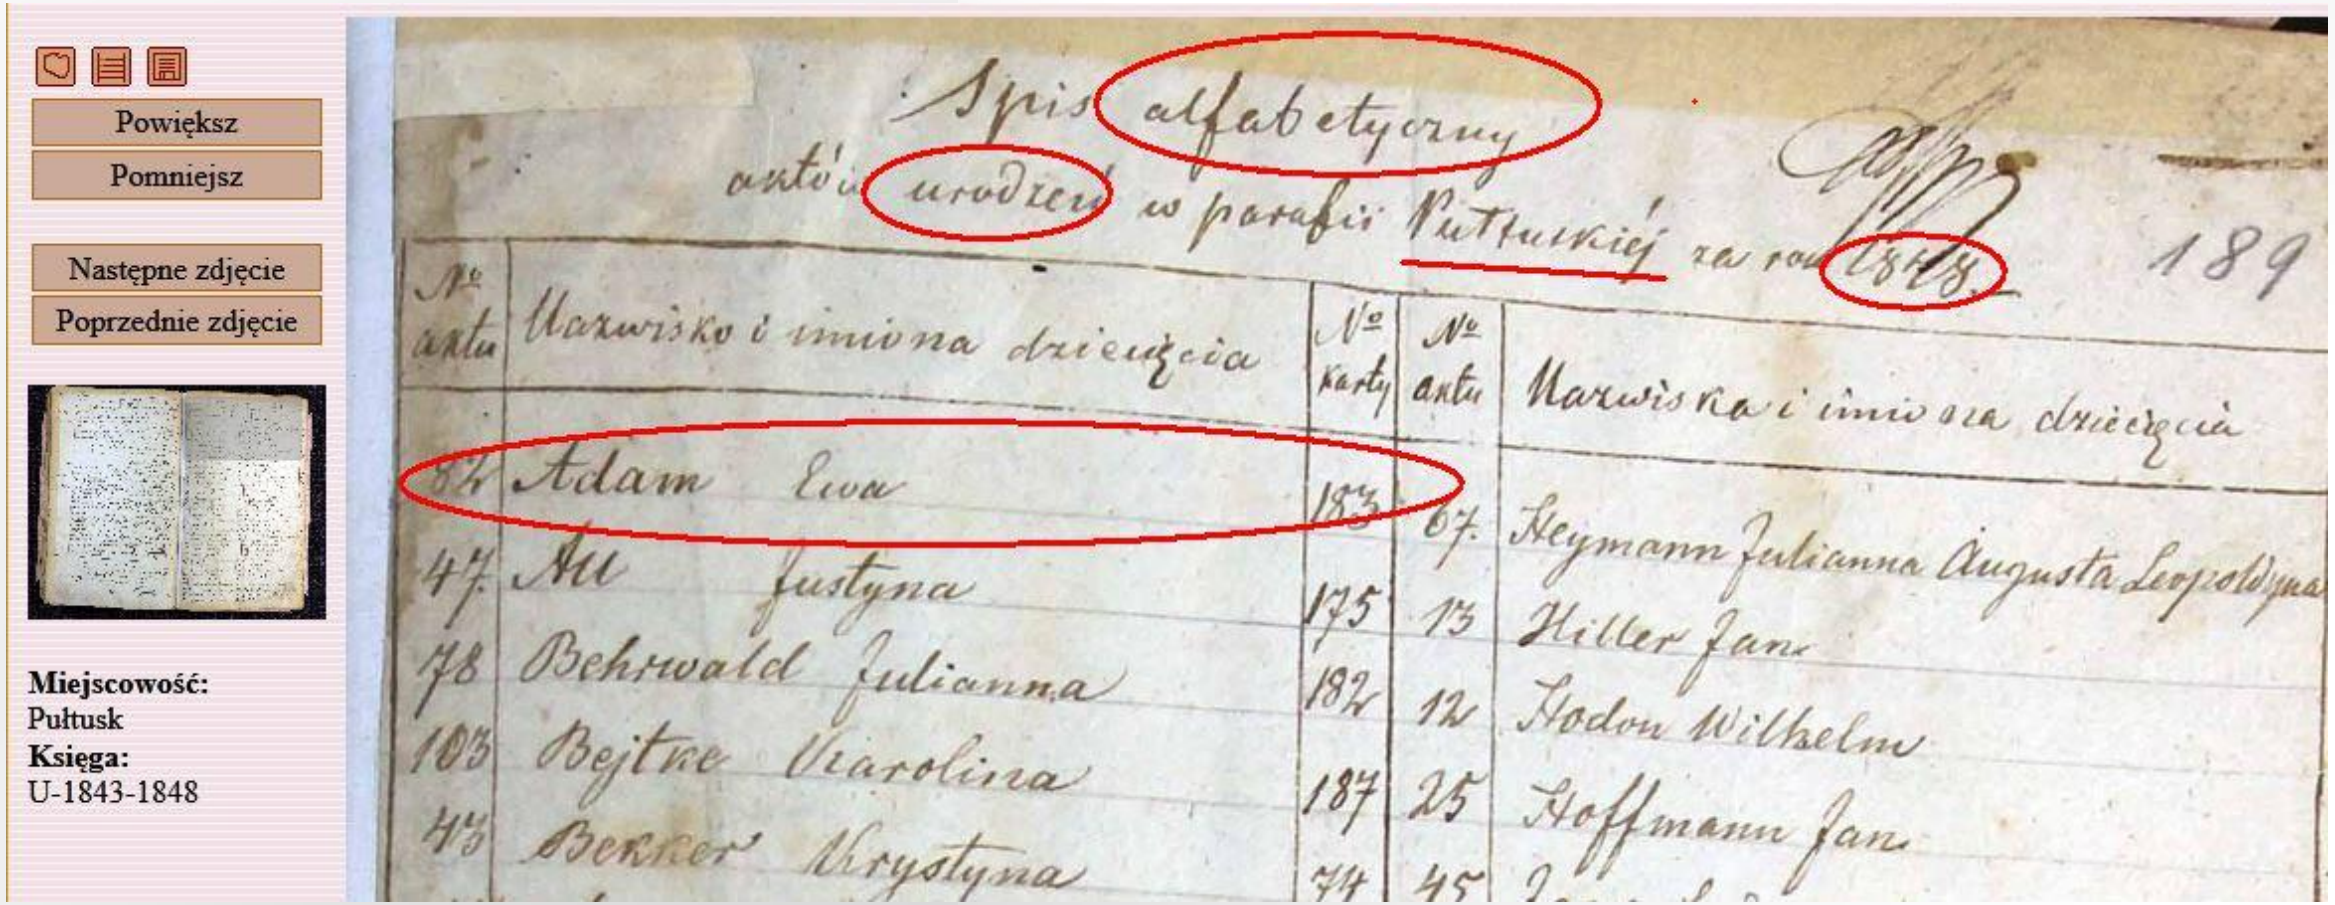
IMPORTANCE OF ALPHABETICAL INDEXES

aka: skorowidz, register, spis, indeks

SkU = Urodzony (births) SkZ = Zgony (deaths)

SkM = małżenstw(o) (marriages)



COMMENTS ON INDEXES IN RECORD BOOKS

- Birth, Marriage & Death indexes are invaluable for finding records or even the right year in a large file; index headings use numbers for the date, not words.
- Usually at the end of each kind of record for the calendar year
- Tip: when searching thumbnail images, watch for the list of names before the longer marriage records – that will signal the birth index; the marriage index will be just before the shorter death records begin.
- Indexes may NOT be alphabetized by surname. Some indexes before 1830 may be alphabetized by given name! Other early indexes may just list the b/m/d in the order they appeared for registration. Tip: the index is still faster than finding names in records!
- A parish may compile indexes for a span of years. Sometimes those are all that survive (or are just digitized first).

Eva Adam was born 1848 on 15/27 Oct., Nowa Wies & baptized 19/31 Oct., Pultusk parents: Johann Adam, 38 & Sophia Baltzer, 40

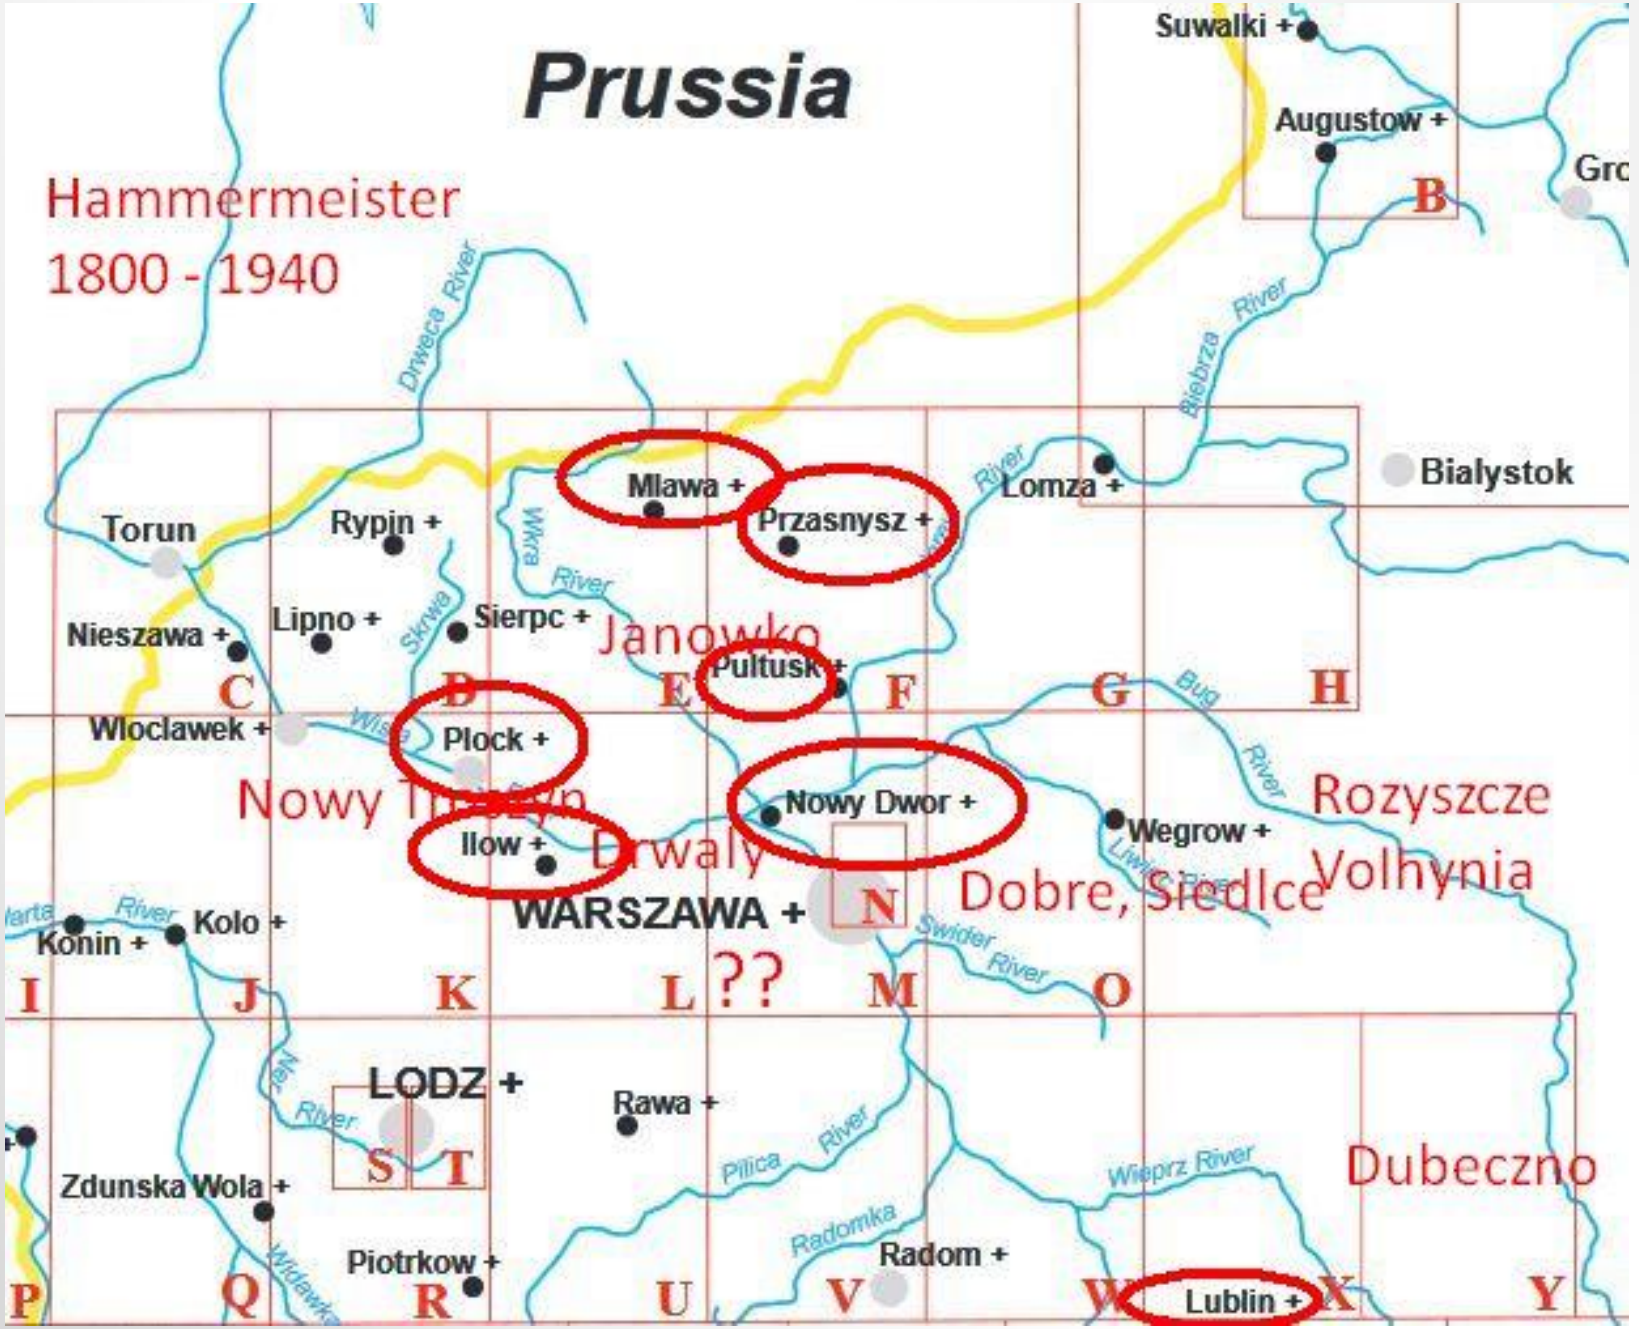
EXAMPLE: PARISH MIGRATION OF A FAMILY IN POLAND

- Ilow & Plock parish 1800-?
- Nowy Troszyn, Gostynin, Plock 1808
- Drwaly, Wyszogrod, Plock 1810-1830 (Hammermeister)
- Janowko, Przasnysz, Pultusk or Mlawa 1809-1839 (Witzke)
- Nowy Dwor parish 1834-1846
- Dobre in Wegrow or Minsk Mazowieckie? 1855
- Volhynia & Lublin by 1880



STRATEGIES & TIPS:

- Collect data on extended family, especially to verify locations. Check against SGGEE parish maps for possible archives.
- Become familiar with databases by searching first for known records, then looking for siblings or relatives in the parish.
- Use any English interface to become familiar with tools – but remember that the Polish interface will be faster & have more results (the web software platform behind a search is complex).
- Use Polish spellings of names unless you are restricting search to an Evangelical parish (Polish spellings are still common).
- Watch your browser! Example: Google Chrome will automatically translate pages—that includes names. Your results won't match what is in the records. Also, if a website or database is freezing or not working right, try a different browser.

MORE TIPS:

- Search indexed databases for the "big picture": SGGEE MPD or PRI or Lublin Project, FamilySearch, Ancestry, Poznan Project, "Geneteka." But remember: indexes by volunteers are not complete & they do not know your family.
- When you find direct scan links that reveal your parish, look there for more records.
- Develop a search strategy & open a notepad file, pasting search results with url links, parish or archive notes, "infodot" remarks, etc. as you search. Follow the links & download records later in another "session." Focus on either the search or the results to be more productive.
- Create folders or family subfolders for each online archive to hold downloads. If you rename the record, you'll still know where you found it. You can put urls and notes in a Word document on the family. But those urls can "break" & the record won't be found.

SAVING & SOURCING ONLINE RECORDS

- Main source is the online Database where you downloaded the record, e.g. Metryki.genealodzy.pl, Metryki.genbaza.pl, "Szukaj," FamilySearch.org, Ancestry.com.
- Detail includes province, parish, b/m/or d with year, & record #; film number if there is one. Anyone can then find the record even if the url for the online image changes or breaks.
- Downloads include a whole page. Save an edited/cropped version of the record you need and name it. It will be larger & easier to read. If the record continues across two pages, save as A & B.
- Learn some basic Polish, Cyrillic, German & Latin. This is absolutely necessary even just to find the right record!
